

COACHELLA VALLEY WATER DISTRICT

Residential Smart Controller Program

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The Coachella Valley Water District (CVWD) is purchasing, installing, and programming one free weather-based irrigation controller (smart controller) per customer account for eligible residential customers.

Smart controllers automatically adjust your irrigation system's run time based on historic and/or current weather data, reducing the amount of water applied in the cooler months and increasing the amount in the summer. Studies have shown that Coachella Valley homeowners who switch to smart controllers have cut their water usage up to 26 percent.
